Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department officials arrested one of their own early Sunday morning after he shot and critically wounded Gary Miller, 22, outside of a bar establishment in Belle Glade. The deputy was off duty at the time of the incident.

Johnnie Lee Duce, 39, allegedly shot Miller after the two men had a verbal confrontation inside Club Zanz, 85 Canal Street. According to Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department reports, the men were separated by bar patrons and escorted outside of the establishment.

After leaving the club, Thomas Stewart, a fellow Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department Correction Deputy who was also off duty, and Duce sat inside of Stewart's vehicle.

Miller walked in front of the vehicle, and reports indicate the two men began exchanging words again. Duce observed Stewart's service revolver on the seat of the vehicle. He grabbed the gun and exited the vehicle and approached Miller. P.B.S.O. reports indicate Duce pointed the gun at Miller and discharged it one time.

According to Palm Beach County Detective Sergeant John Russ, "Stewart tried to stop Duce."

Miller was struck one time in the left side by a .357 caliber revolver.

He was taken to Glades General Hospital, and later was taken via Trauma Hawk to Delray County Hospital.

At newspaper press time, Miller's condition had been upgraded to good.

Det. Sgt. Russ said, "We don't really know why they were arguing, but we speculate it was about his (Duce's) girlfriend."

Duce was arrested on one count of aggravated battery with a firearm. He was booked into the Palm Beach County Jail where he was released on $3,000 bail.

Duce has been placed on administrative leave with pay. Reports also indicate an internal affairs investigation is presently under way.

Duce has been employed with the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department for 10 years in the corrections division. He worked in the Belle Glade jail.

Woman arrested after running over bicyclists

Tommy Jackson
Staff Reporter

A Pahokee woman was arrested Feb. 27 and charged with two counts of aggravated battery with a motor vehicle, after she allegedly ran over two women who were riding their bicycles on Canal Street in Canal Point.

Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department reports indicate Carrie Dotson, 49, and Sherry Russell, 28, both of Pahokee, were bicycle riding in Canal Point. The ladies were approached by Betty J. Strickland, 50, who was driving a 1979 Pontiac on Canal Street. The ladies became involved in a confrontation and words were exchanged over an old domestic problem between Strickland and Dotson.

P.B.S.O. reports state it is unsure of the extent of the argument, however, tempers flared and Strickland drove away. She drove down the street and turned around. She then headed back toward the ladies. Her vehicle struck both of the ladies, knocking them from their bicycles.

Russell was taken to Everglades Regional Medical Center, Pahokee, where she was treated and released. Reports indicate she suffered severe bruising to both of her legs.

Dotson was also taken to ERMCC and then to St. Mary's Hospital, via Trauma Hawk. She suffered a broken pelvis, fractured skull and possible severe neck injuries.

At newspaper press time, Dotson was listed in serious condition in the intensive care unit.

Strickland was arrested and charged with two counts of aggravated battery with a motor vehicle. She was booked into the Palm Beach County Jail where she was released on $3,000 bond.

Argument escalates into shooting

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

An argument over stolen property ended with one man hospitalized in critical but stable condition in St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach.

Belle Glade Police received a call about midnight Saturday, Feb. 26, from Glades General Hospital personnel. They said they had a shooting victim who had been shot once in the chest.

The victim, Israel Martinez, 19, of 1001 N.E. 28th Street, Belle Glade, was stabilized at Glades General and transported by Trauma Hawk to St. Mary's where he underwent emergency surgery.

Police investigation revealed Martinez and four friends were at Pioneer Park on S.R. 715 when they got into an argument over stolen property. Martinez and his friends left Pioneer Park and went to Lake Shore Park, located in the 1200 block of S.W. Ave. E Place, and parked in front of the tennis/basketball courts. While standing outside in the parking area, a car described as a Chevrolet Celebrity, light in color with damage to the right front of the vehicle, drove by and the suspect, David B. Roa, 19, of 409 S.E. 3rd Street, Belle Glade, allegedly fired four to six shots out the passenger's window.

One shot struck a parked van and entered through the left rear door window. The other shot struck Martinez in the upper right portion of his chest.

A Smith and Wesson 9 mm. semi-automatic weapon, believed to be used in the shooting, was recovered at Roa's home.

Roa was arrested and booked into the Palm Beach County Jail for attempted second degree murder, four counts of aggravated assault, persons engaged in a criminal offense having a weapon and discharge of a firearm in public.

Radio tower installer falls at Okeelanta

Tommy Jackson
Staff Reporter

Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department officials reported to Okeelanta Mill Feb. 26 after it was reported a radio tower installer had fallen from the radio tower.

P.B.S.O. reports state Phillip Boardman, 29, of Stuart, was approximately 200 feet up the radio tower at Okeelanta Sugar Company.

As the weather began to deteriorate and thunder, rain and lightning began to set in, the installer began to descend from the tower.

After arriving at the 70 foot mark, Boardman's pulley broke loose from the tower causing him to fall.

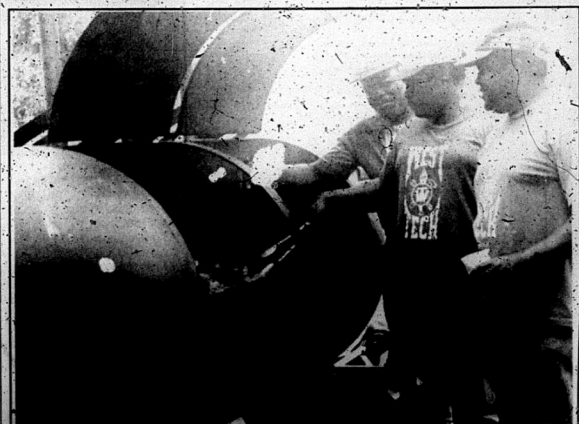

Reports indicate during the installer's free fall, his body struck a guide wire at the 40 foot level, thus sending him into an uncontrollable spin. He then struck an aluminum shed, approximately 6 feet tall, located at the base of the tower. His body then struck the ground, sustaining massive injuries.

Boardman was transported to Glades General Hospital and then to St. Mary's Hospital via Trauma Hawk. He received broken collar bones, and other injuries. At newspaper press time, Boardman was listed in serious condition in the intensive care unit.

P.B.S.O. reports state Boardman is an experienced climber and installer. He had been on the job for two days. He is employed by S & S Towers in Okeelanta. He had been employed by them for two days also.

Mark Brandel, vice president of S & S Towers, said his company was not willing to make a comment about the accident at this time.

Everglades update

By Robert Buker
Senior Vice President
United States Sugar Corp.

Editor's note: Mr. Buker is in Tallahassee during the legislative session dealing with the Everglades. The following is his view of how the negotiations are proceeding.

Tallahassee --The battle to preserve farm jobs in the Glades area and settle the long-running dispute over preservation of the Florida Everglades had shifted to our State Capitol in Tallahassee and the recently convened session of the Florida Legislature.

Gov. Lawton Chiles announced in January he would try to solve Everglades problems with new legislation and at least two proposals have been discussed so far. From what we have seen, these proposed bills will not create a fair and reasonable solution to Everglades problems, but instead will seriously hurt farmers - at the minimum - and at the extreme put them out of business.

Farmers find themselves once again forced into another government forum and required to devote a lot of their time, energy and money to defend their right to survive.

We have just limited a year-long effort that many Glades area farmers participated in to find a negotiated solution that ended in December after the Federal Government, bowing to pressure from environmental extremists, would not agree to terms which would allow farmers to survive.

Many of you will recall the hearings in Clewiston and elsewhere last December conducted by the Army Corps of Engineers. They presented a plan they are considering which at the minimum would flood 35 percent of all the farms in the Glades, create mile-wide flow ways, and destroy four towns.

We asked the Federal negotiators to assure us that this would not become the policy of the federal government. They answered that they would not interfere with their "scientists" and refused to give us any assurances.

Shortly after the Legislature convened in February, Dan Thompson, the chief legal counsel for the Florida Department of Environmental Protection, presented to the Senate Natural Resources Committee the draft of a bill he wants passed which would impose an Everglades cleanup program on farmers.

The draft bill contained many punitive measures against farmers. Perhaps worst of all, the bill would deny farmers their civil rights. But the situation could get worse and it did.

About a week after the Dan Thompson bill was aired, another proposed bill was being talked about in Tallahassee. Sen. Curt Kiser of St. Petersburg, a long time friend of Olanrewaju George Barley, submitted legislation to tax sugar farmers in Florida out of business.

This bill mirrors George Barley's petition drive to amend the Florida Constitution in November to impose a tax on sugar farmers.

Sen. Kiser's bill (and the Barley Petition drive) calls for a $75 an acre tax which would cause sugar farmers to pay $37.5 million a year. Under Sen. Kiser's bill, farmers would be required to pay the entire cost of fixing the South Florida eco-system no matter who was responsible for problems.

The same team of farmer representatives who spent most of the last year in negotiations, is spending almost full time now in Tallahassee to try to prevent the passage of this kind of legislation.

We believe there is a chance that with the proper education, members of the Florida Legislature will not follow extremists in the Department of Environmental Protection and in environmental organizations. Any legislation that finally emerges on the Everglades will be written by the Senate Natural Resources Committee, headed by Sen. Rick Dantzler of Winter Haven.

We hope it will be faithful to the Statement of Principles announced last summer and in accordance with the Mediated Technical Plan to which the majority of the parties to the negotiations agreed.

Under the agreement, farmers would have paid up to $322 million over a 20-year period to help build a system of Stormwater Treatment Areas.

It would initiate a broad system of eco-system improvements worked out by a panel of farmers and representatives of the state and federal governments and environmental organizations as part of the overall negotiations.

We believe the Statement of Principles and the Technical Plan still is the fairest and most reasonable way to solve this problem.

We will be working in Tallahassee over the next few weeks to try to convince the Governor and legislators to be fair to farmers in trying to fix Everglades problems.

We will keep you posted on events and would appreciate your comments and letters of support to the Governor and members of the legislature.

Did we forget how to drive?

I'm just questioning when it was the American people forgot how to drive? As my office sits on Main Street, I see several people who speed up as they see pedestrians trying to cross the street when the "Don't Walk" sign changes in the middle of the intersection.

Why do we try to run people over and not give the courtesy to people who maybe don't know where they're at or maybe they're turned around?

Can anyone answer my question on when we forgot how to drive? People who have valid driver's license have them in the State of Florida who shouldn't have them - it's like as soon as we got those little things in our hands we just forget totally all about them.

Anyways, that's my Speak Out for the day. Thank you.

A message from the former Red Cross Service Center Manager

This is Anne Hopkins, former director of the American Red Cross West County Service Center.

I'm very proud to have served the Glades community for four years with the Red Cross. I thank each of you for your support, whether you were donating food to our food pantry, dollars to the FP & L Care to Share program, taking a first aid course, or support through your volunteer organization.

Also, whether you are a business, club member, or concerned individual, all of you have much to be proud of, as the Red Cross has grown to earn recognition in a new location on South Main Street.

Congratulations and continued success to the Glades people striving to better serve its community.

Again, I thank you all for what you've done to make the American Red Cross, West County Service Center, what it is today.

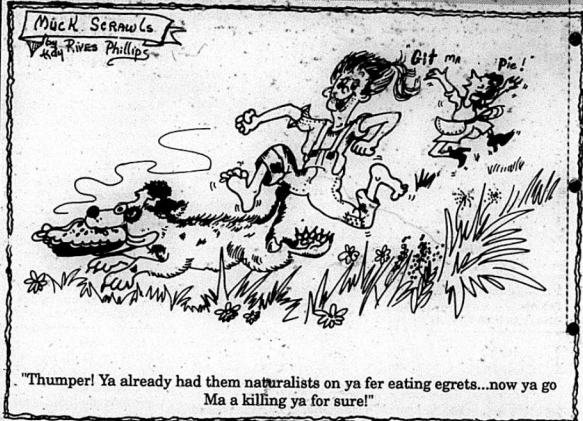

But what about the traffic?

I'm glad to see construction of the new Glades Central Community High School is moving along, but I have a question. What about the traffic load this will create on State Road 715 and on South Main Street?

Already, the traffic on South Main Street has become unbearable during peak traffic times, such as early morning, lunch time, and after work.

I hope someone is looking into this problem before it becomes a big headache. Thank you. Editor's note: This is being studied by the Department of Transportation and is being closely monitored by the Canal Hazard Safety Committee, our local watchdogs for road work and traffic flow.

Thank you for Speaking Out.

Placement of news is important

Dear Editor:

Thank you for giving positive news coverage to our Glades area high school students. I am especially proud that two young ladies will participate in a valuable government experience when they serve as pages for elected officials. I congratulate both young ladies and their parents.

I hope that in the future you will be sensitive to the placement of articles about our youth. One student was featured in the main news section of the paper while the other student received coverage at the bottom of the obituary page. These two young ladies are striving to achieve each day and both deserved a prominent place in our newspaper. Many parents in Pahokee share this concern and hope that future coverage will be featured more appropriately.

If your paper is unable to give equal coverage to our youth, please hold the article for a future edition of the paper.

G. Eugenia Jones
Principal
Pahokee High School

Editor's note: Thank you for bringing this to our attention. It was certainly not our intention to slight anyone by the placement of their article. We will try to be more careful in the future.

Guest commentary

By Robert C. Lupo
Belle Glade Church of Christ

His benefit but ours. Even though He knows what we need before we ask (Matt. 6:8). He still wants us to ask. Just as any father wants his child to ask of him the things he wants, our Heavenly Father wants us to ask of Him the things we want. In fact, He wants us to persecute Him. That is what Jesus taught in Lk. 11:5f. Jesus said, "Because of his importunity or persistence, he will rise and give him as many as he needeth" v. 8. Now certainly, if a friend would get up out of bed at the persistent knocking at the door by a friend in need and help him, our God who is grater and a greater friend will answer our needs if we are persistent in asking. Our prayers should be addressed to the Father (Matt. 6:9). They ought to be offered in faith (Mt. 11:24). Prayers should be offered in the name of Jesus (John 14:13). Our prayer ought to be offered according to the Lord's will (1 Jn. 5:14). Our prayers should also be offered as those who are obedient to God (1 Jn. 3:21, 22; John 9:31; 1 Pet. 2:10-12).

Proverbs 15:9 says, "The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord; but the prayer of the upright is his delight."

In view of these things and especially this last prerequisite, it is possible that God will not listen on this World Day of Prayer. Isaiah in writing to the Jews (God's chosen people) said, "Behold the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither is His ear heavy that it cannot hear; but your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid His face from you, that he will not hear." Isaiah 59:1-2. God may not be impressed by a world which, to a large extent, ignores Him throughout the year then comes to Him on one day to remember him in prayer. Though we may think it a great thing, God may not feel so honored.

It will do us no good to remember God this one day and forget Him the rest of the year. It will do no good to come together under the pretense of unity in religion while not following God's way of accomplishing such (see Jn. 17:20, 21; 1 Cor. 1:10-13) or working towards it. It will do no good to pray for peace if we do not actively pursue that goal. It will do no good to pray for our shortcomings if we do not try to overcome sin.

Some may think we are trying to defeat the purpose behind World Day of Prayer. While this is not so; we are trying to urge daily spirituality through obedience and prayer unto God. Unless we actively work towards the goals of World Day of Prayer, they never will be realized.

The practicality of this World Day of Prayer depends on us! Let us pray:

World Day of Prayer Will God listen?

The thought of the world pausing from its busy schedule of work, war, sin, school and play in order to pray to the living God is wonderful.

This World Day of Prayer (Friday, March 4) is no doubt an effort to bring people together, to cause us to unite in the single effort of remembering God, recognizing our shortcomings and promoting peace among men. This sounds wonderful, but is it practical?

Certainly, we are not questioning the effectiveness of prayer. James said, "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much (5:16b)."

He then gives the example of Elijah saying, "Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months. And he prayed again, and the heavens gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit" James 5:17, 18. Prayer works!

God does not need us to pray to Him (See Acts 17:25), but He wants us to. Prayer is not for

National Women's History Month is celebrated in March

The theme of this year's National Women's History Month - "In Every Generation, Action Frees Our Dreams" - highlights the importance of women's struggle to improve their lives and the lives of the people around them.

Each March, the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) celebrates National Women's History Month by developing and distributing a commemorative poster to schools, libraries, senior centers and other locations. AARP also supports events in communities nationwide that celebrate women's contributions to our national heritage.

"During National Women's History Month, we encourage communities to identify and honor women whose actions have made a difference to them and to the world," said Maxine Forman, manager of the AARP Women's Initiative. "AARP volunteers are working with local groups to promote awareness of women's contributions to history, which often have been ignored."

Father-Daughter square dance a hit with Glades Girl Scouts

Glades-area Girl Scouts had an old-fashioned hoe-down at the Father-Daughter Square Dance, held at the Belle Glade Civic Center Feb. 19.

Forty-eight participants with kids were all so excited. You could just tell by the way they looked at their Daddies," said Ms. Willis.

This was the first time all the local Girl Scouts had an

Trauma Hawk receives Federal Aviation certification

The Palm Beach County Health Care District's Trauma Hawk aeromedical-rescue program has received 135 certifications from the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA). The certification verified compliance with the federal regulations established for operating an air ambulance in the United States.

This certificate confirms our established safety standards and the public's trust in the Trauma Hawk program," said Gerry Pagano, aeromedical director for the Palm Beach County Health Care District.

According to Mr. Pagano, the major emphasis of the FAA's 135 pre-certification program is safety and quality control. Ground and flight crews associated with the Health Care

District and the Trauma Hawk, including personnel from the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office and Palm Beach County Fire-Rescue, completed an intensive evaluation with representatives from the FAA prior to the Health Care District receiving the certification.

In addition, Mr. Pagano was approved by the FAA as a 135 check airman and gave in-flight air checks last week to five Trauma Hawk pilots. Jim Truitt, of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office, was granted flight instructor status for the aeromedical program.

WHIPLASH

Whiplash injuries can result from a sudden backward and forward whipping movement of the neck, caused by an auto collision, a fall, a powerful slap on the back, or even a violent sneeze. The ligaments and muscles controlling the spinal segments are stretched or sprained, allowing the vertebrae to slip into abnormal positions. Nerves are then "pinched" or irritated, giving rise to headaches, nausea, dizziness and other pain.

South Bay Growers recently presented City of South Bay Mayor Clarence Anthony with the deed to the former mess hall building. In turn, the city will donate the building to NOAH, Inc. who will open a child care facility designed for children who are failing to thrive. South Bay Growers donates old mess hall to City of South Bay South Bay Growers, Inc. Vice President Jerry Grace presented the deed for a former mess-hall building and land, valued at approximately $75,000, to South Bay Mayor Clarence Anthony in a ceremony Monday afternoon. The facility will be used to house a child care center for children failing to thrive, operated by Building Blocks, a program of Neighbors Organized for Affordable Housing (NOAH, Inc.). Funding for the center will be provided by the Fortin Foundation of Palm Beach.

"South Bay Growers is proud to provide a foundation for this worthwhile program," said Mr. Grace. "Caring for children is important for the future of our community. At South Bay Growers, we have always had a strong commitment to the community."

The mess hall building will be renovated and turned into a child care center for up to 15 children, infants to 2 years of age. The center will serve children who are failing to thrive, those who have social problems or are otherwise at risk.

"This is an excellent example of public-private partnership serving a critical need in the community," said Mayor Anthony. "Thanks to South Bay Growers, the Fortin Foundation and Building Blocks, kids in South Bay and surrounding communities will get the attention and care they deserve."

The center will be operated by Building Blocks, a family services non-profit organization founded in 1985. The parent organization of Building Blocks, NOAH, Inc., is also non-profit and was formed in 1984 to promote adequate housing in the Glades Communities.

The center will provide assistance in four areas: early childhood education, health support services, parenting and home visiting services. It is expected to open by fall 1994. Funding to renovate the building and operate the program is being provided by the Fortin Foundation of Palm Beach.

The building is 2,670 square feet on a property that measures 134 x 150 feet. It was formerly used as a mess hall to feed employees of South Bay Growers, U.S. Sugar Corporation employee/charity-owned company. The company grows and markets lettuce, celery, cabbage and leafy vegetables, as well as marketing sweet corn, radishes and carrots for other growers. Approximately 13 percent of the winter leafy vegetables in the United States are grown by South Bay Growers.

Also in attendance at the ceremonies were John Brown, NOAH, Inc. Executive Director; Gladys Barber, deputy director of NOAH, Inc.; and Barbara Swaby, NOAH family services director.

Florida's wildlife benefits from Pittman-Robertson Act

Each time a hunter buys a firearm, ammunition or archery equipment, he helps raise revenue to finance wildlife restoration projects in Florida.

New whoopers learning survival from elders

Bobcats have preyed on 12 of 19 whooping cranes released into the wild at the Three Lakes Wildlife Management Area in 1993. Researchers released six more whoopers recently as part of the whooper reintroduction study, and they expect this release will help them gain a better understanding of bobcats and how to reduce their impact on reintroduced whoopers.

Wildlife biologist Steve Nesbitt, who heads the whooping crane reintroduction project, said scientists expected fairly high whooper mortality from predators early on, but they also anticipated that the subsequent arrivals would fare better than the early arrivals did.

Mr. Nesbitt said the older birds seem to be imparting knowledge about danger to the younger birds. The youngsters are learning to avoid bobcats. Scientists have been helping too by capturing bobcats in the vicinity and releasing them in other areas when possible.

Currently, five whoopers that were released early last year and two that were released in December are roaming freely over the area. The six additional birds released recently have been held in a pen with briars (restraints) attached to one of their wings. The new arrivals comprise four males and two females, all from Patuxent Wildlife Research Center in Maryland.

Wildlife Restoration Act, or "Pittman Robertson" (P-R) as it is commonly called, utilizes the "user pay" concept for wildlife restoration by employing an 11 percent excise tax on the equipment purchased by hunters.

"The cat was created in 1937 and was supported by hunters, sporting arms manufacturers, and fish and wildlife agencies to promote wildlife conservation and hunter safety," said Tom Wright, Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission's wildlife restoration coordinator.

Since the onset of P-R, $2.2 billion has been set aside for habitat management, wildlife research and other conservation projects. Florida's share has been approximately $43 million of that amount which is determined by its land acreage and number of hunters in relation to other states.

"This year we expect to receive approximately $3.3 million. Seventy percent of the funds will be used for wildlife management area development and maintenance and wildlife research projects. The remaining 30 percent will help finance our hunter education program," Mr. Wright said.

Local teacher flies over Glades area

Gove Elementary had a full week of interesting and exciting community professionals sharing their work experiences with the students. Thursday was the best when the equestrian sheriff department from the Trauma Hawk took one of our teachers in a stretcher and flew her over the Glades area. "It was a majestic view," she said. This week we are celebrating Black History Month with a special program. We have some former students from Gove: Turnisha Hall (now attending Lake Shore Middle School, and Shakira Hamilton (now attending School of the Arts. Lake Shore Principal Richard Ramsey and Renee Atkins did exciting presentations. The fashion show was superb with beautiful, colorful clothes depicting the Black culture. The students and teachers did an excellent job presenting their culture through fashion, poetry, drama, music and accomplishments in history. A special thanks to the Black Awareness Committee and all those who helped to put together such an awesome program. The committee members are Sabrina Darville, Daisy Greenland, Johnnie Hankerson, Sharon Singleton, Diana Trepianer and Cynthia Kelly. Friday is Fit to Achieve Day. Every school in the State of Florida will take 15 minutes to exercise for the "Health of It". We would like to invite our community out to participate with the whole school at Mace Park beginning at 1 p.m. Come join the fun!

Campus Choir in concert Monday

The Lee College Campus Choir, under the direction of Dr. David Horton, will present a sacred concert at Good Shepherd Church of God on Monday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. Composed of over 70 voices, the Campus Choir offers a program of traditional and contemporary gospel music. In addition to performing regularly on the college campus in Cleveland, Tenn., the choir makes two or three tours throughout the eastern United States each year. Recently, they traveled to several countries in Eastern Europe to share the gospel in song. Pastor James H. Brewer invites the public to attend this free performance at 1800 Bacom Point Road, Pahokee.

On Sunday, Feb. 27, Sharon Ricketts participated in the annual English Speaking Union Shakespear competition. Accompanied by drama teacher Sarah Bennett, Sharon acted a scene from Othello as well as delivering Shakespear sonnet.

"Sharon gave an excellent performance," said Ms. Bennett. "I was very proud of her."

Two students represented Glades Central High School at the annual Science and Engineering Fair held at the fairgrounds on Feb. 23. Sharon Ricketts, senior, presented her project on the drosophila which she completed at FSU last summer. Alexa Lutz, junior, showed her project which involved apical dominance in sugarcane. Their teacher, Susan Machock, is the science department chairperson.

report cards will be not mailed until after Spring Break.

Congratulations to those students who were honored by their peers at the dance last weekend. Eighth graders Zach Threlkeld and Carla Alvarez were crowned king and queen of the Junior Dance, and sixth graders Craig Francis and Kelly Alvarez were named Prince and Princess of the elementary dance.

Gator Glee Club members are busy this week entertaining citizens in the Glades communities with selections from their "Top 40" Spring Contest. They performed for the "Fun after Fifty-Five" Pahokee group this past Tuesday, the "Keen Kids" at the First Baptist Church in Belle Glade on Wednesday, and the "Young at Heart" on Thursday.
